Excerpts from UT Compliance and Ethics Guide

Obligation to Report Wrongdoing

All University employees have a personal and professional obligation to report, or cause to be reported, and to assist in any investigation by persons authorized or responsible for such matters, the following (collectively referred to as “wrongdoing”): Illegal or fraudulent activity; financial misstatements, or accounting or auditing irregularities; conflicts of interests or dishonest or unethical conduct; violations of the institution’s code of conduct; and violations of other laws, rules, or regulations.

Use of Intellectual or Copyrighted Property

Copyrighted material, which includes almost everything written or recorded in any medium, including software, is protected under the federal Copyright Act and generally may not be copied or used without the owner’s permission. Generally, such materials may be copied without the copyright owner's permission only within narrow exceptions under the Copyright Act.

Any copying or reproduction of copyrighted software on University computing equipment must comply with the Copyright Act and any applicable software license agreement. Further, faculty, staff and students may not use unauthorized copies of software on University owned computers or networks or computers housed in University facilities. However, one exception, known as “fair use,” allows copyrighted materials to be copied or otherwise used without the copyright owner's permission. <https://www.copyright.gov/fair-use/more-info.html>

Important Note on Academic Integrity

Students are expected to respect the LBJ School's standards regarding academic dishonesty. You owe it to yourself, your fellow students, and the institution to maintain the highest standards of integrity and ethical behavior. A discussion of academic integrity, including definitions of plagiarism and unauthorized collaboration, as well as helpful information on citations, note taking, and paraphrasing, can be found at the web page of the Office of the Dean of Students: http://deanofstudents.utexas.edu/sjs/acint_student.php

The University has also established disciplinary procedures and penalty guidelines for academic dishonesty, especially Sec. 11.304 in Appendix C of the Institutional Rules on Student Services and Activities section in UT's General Information Catalog.

Acceptable Use Policy

The UT Austin Acceptable Use Policy (AUP) serves as a supplement to the UT Austin Information Resources Use and Security Policy. University information resources consist of the computer devices, data, applications, and the supporting networking infrastructure. These technologies are critical to the multifaceted mission of the university, a mission that includes teaching, research, and public service.

While these resources help the university function, they also require responsible use from every user. Your actions can affect people all around the world. You must use these technologies responsibly and with respect.

For the full AUP Policy see: <https://security.utexas.edu/policies/aup>

Message from the Dean

Welcome to the LBJ School of Public Affairs. You are joining us because you want to tackle critical challenges not just within the walls of academia, but also in the public and social dialogue of our world. Today begins a personal and collective transition from the known to the unknown, from the predictable to the uncertain.

Your decision to invest in a public policy education could not be more important and timely. The direction and agenda of our national policies are in flux. Americans are more divided along partisan lines than they have been in two decades, eroding trust in government and thwarting our nation's progress. As the next generation of leaders, you will need all of your energy and skills to successfully engage in what is a national and global environment of uncertainty, where trust in our public institutions and officials has eroded.

However, our country is always strengthened through occasions when we reexamine who we are as Americans and how we govern ourselves as a Nation. Now is the time to embrace an education that will prepare you to be fearless public leaders. Now is the time to explore the many opportunities afforded you as you seek your place in serving the public good. The importance of the work you are about to undertake cannot be overstated.

The LBJ School is a place where you and your fellow students are held to the highest of academic, professional, and ethical standards. You are taught both by experts who engage in relevant and timely research as well as those who have led in policy communities. And, you join a network of accomplished alumni who generously share their expertise and experience.

This is an exciting era at the School because our programs and our curriculum are changing to incorporate new knowledge, new technology, and challenging 21st century issues. There is no better place in the nation to see real-life policy implications than Austin, Texas. You will have the advantage of immersion in a complete policy learning laboratory with the vast resources of the University of Texas, a Tier I research university. The Lone Star State is a powerhouse, with a population of about 28 million and the longest foreign border in the United States, serving as a gateway to diverse international and global policy communities in Mexico, Cuba, Central and South America. The world and its challenges are truly at our doorstep here at the LBJ School.

We are excited to have you join us on this journey.

Best,

Angela M. Evans
Dean

The University of Texas Honor Code

The core values of The University of Texas at Austin are learning, discovery, freedom, leadership, individual opportunity, and responsibility. Each member of the university community is expected to uphold these values through integrity, honesty, fairness, and respect toward peers and community.

Professional Ethics

Whether you plan to pursue your future career in the public, private or nonprofit sector, all LBJ School students should have the self-awareness that they are members of the LBJ School community as well as members of a public service profession: both have a high standard for professional and ethical conduct. See the inside cover for more information about your obligations to report wrongdoing, Intellectual and Copyrighted Property, UT's Academic Integrity standards, and the Acceptable Use Policy.

As an external reference, we encourage all LBJ School students to familiarize themselves with the Code of Ethics formulated by the American Society of Public Administration, available online at <https://www.aspanet.org/ASPA/About-ASPA/Code-of-Ethics/ASPA/Code-of-Ethics/Code-of-Ethics.aspx>.

Academic Team

At the LBJ School we have an entire team working together to address and resolve academic issues, and provide guidance throughout your LBJ career. This team includes the Associate Dean for Academic Strategies, the Academic Policies Committee (APC), Graduate Advisors for each degree program, and Graduate Admissions & Program Coordinators (GAPCs).

The Associate Dean for Academic Strategies oversees the administration of all academic programs at the LBJ School. This position works closely with the Dean to coordinate the curriculum and content of academic programs and to oversee faculty teaching assignments, faculty assistants, TAs, Graduate Advisors, among many other responsibilities.

The Academic Policies Committee is made up of faculty leadership and staff who meet to resolve academic issues related to the specific circumstances of individual students.

The MGPS Graduate Advisors serve as your information source and troubleshooters on academic policies and procedures. The Graduate Advisors assist all MGPS students with academic planning and have signature authority over many academic procedures. The Graduate Advisors can also refer you to faculty mentors with more expertise in your specific area of interest.

The GAPCs are staff members who work in the Office of Student Affairs (OSAA) and they are the members of the Academic Team you will work with most often. The GAPCs keep track of academic records, facilitate administrative processes, and send reminders regarding important deadlines and procedures. They do not have signature authority over academic procedures, but can help direct or guide you through academic processes.

Please do not wait until the day of a deadline to bring an issue forward as some of UT's policies require multiple signatures and, depending on your request, the APC, Graduate Advisor, Associate Dean, GAPCs and/or the Office of Graduate Studies may need to review and resolve your case.

Student Responsibility

LBJ School students are responsible for knowing and satisfying program degree requirements, meeting administrative and academic deadlines, seeking academic advice when needed, and enrolling in appropriate courses to ensure progress toward degree completion. The Office of Student Affairs will be there to help, but students are responsible for their own education.

UT's Office of Graduate Studies (OGS) sets most critical deadlines. Students are expected to promptly and thoroughly read informational emails sent by OSAA staff and Graduate Advisors. Travel and/or personal circumstances do not release you of responsibility for reading advising emails and meeting all deadlines. Please include your full name and UTEID when contacting your Graduate Advisor or GAPC for assistance. Check the websites for the OGS and Office of the Registrar for deadlines.

Physical Mailboxes

Each enrolled student is assigned a mailbox. Student mailboxes are located in SRH 3.118, the mailroom on the ground floor. You can find a list of mailbox assignments in a binder on the table in the mailroom. LBJ School student mailboxes are for internal school use only. The School does not accept personal or business mail on behalf of students.

You are encouraged to write your mailbox number next to your name on the cover of all academic documents submitted to faculty members. This makes it easy for them and/or their assistants to return your graded work to you.

Electronic Communication

Email is the official form of communication at UT Austin. Students are required to provide the LBJ School and The University of Texas with current and accurate contact information at all times, including email address, local and permanent physical addresses, and telephone number. If your contact information changes during your enrollment, you need to update your UT Direct profile. You will also need to notify your GAPC of the change so that we can update the LBJ School's internal records.

Two LBJ School listservs constitute the official communication venue for MGPS students. Entering MGPS students will be subscribed to both listservs at the beginning of the semester:

lbjstudents (lbjstudents@utlists.utexas.edu) listserv is a platform for the School to communicate announcements, events, news and activities pertinent to the entire student body. This list is moderated by staff in OSAA and the Dean's Office who are responsible for posting submissions and messages. There may be times when you have information to share with this listserv, i.e. official student organization meetings, ways to get involved at LBJ, etc. Announcements that are not related to attending UT will not be posted (i.e. housing ads, party invites, concert tickets or other items for sale). As a state-agency resource, the lbjstudents list may not be used for partisan and electoral politics or for proprietary activities.

lbjmgps (lbjmgps@utlists.utexas.edu) listserv is for academic information specific to MGPS students. This list is moderated by the MGPS Graduate Advisor, staff in OSAA and the Dean's Office who are responsible for posting submissions and messages.

How to get your information out to the student body:

- The primary way to distribute a message to the listserv is by using the following link to have your information added to the OSAA newsletter. The OSAA newsletter goes out weekly, so please submit your information well in advance to:

https://docs.google.com/forms/d/e/1FAIpQLSc_D8OZGjnRMv_12DHLStiDre8XcD0Xu_wMT9CMxZ0zQULxIXg/viewform.

- For any job/internship or other professional development postings, email lbjcareers@austin.utexas.edu. Your opportunity will be reviewed and posted to LBJCareers, which is the primary mechanism for communicating this information to students. If the opportunity has a short timeframe or only accepts the first x number of applications, these opportunities will be forwarded to the list by Career Management.
- For any other message that cannot be distributed via weekly newsletter, please email lbjosaa@austin.utexas.edu.
- To request a room or to add an event to the School's calendar, use: <http://lbj.utexas.edu/calendar/room-use-policies>. Complete the form at the bottom of the first paragraph and submit the request for review.
- The list moderators shall determine whether a submission is appropriate for the list based on the aforementioned criteria.
- Requests for reconsideration of rejected submissions shall be made first to the list moderators by e-mail. Upon request, a review of the List Moderator's second rejection may be made to the Director of OSAA and the Associate Dean for Academic Strategies, whose determination is final.

We appreciate your compliance with guidelines provided by the University's Acceptable Use Policy, code of conduct and <https://security.utexas.edu> standards when requesting material to be distributed via the listserv. More details on the Acceptable Use Policy and electronic communications are available here: <https://security.utexas.edu/policies/aup>.

The LBJ School and the University of Texas at Austin own both listservs and therefore reserve the right to monitor all messages and to unsubscribe any participant (without notice) who uses these communication sites in an improper, inappropriate, or illegal manner. Only subscribed utexas.edu email addresses can send messages to either of the listservs. By remaining subscribed to either or both listservs (i.e., by not unsubscribing), you have indicated your agreement to comply with the LBJ School's and the University's guidelines for use of the LBJ School listservs.

Section II. MGPS Degree: Curriculum Overview

MGPS Degree Requirements

The LBJ School's curriculum and academic policies are set by each program's Graduate Studies Committee (GSC), which consists of tenured and tenure-track LBJ School faculty members. The MGPS program is a full-time graduate program: you must be a full-time enrolled student (taking a minimum of 9 credits each semester) to continue toward your degree. A minimum of 12 credits each semester, taking 13 in one of those semesters, is required to finish in 2 years.

Completion of the (regular) MGPS program requires a total of 49 graduate credit hours:

Core Course Requirements 22

PA 387G, Nature of the International System (fall semesters only)	3
PA 397G, Analytical Methods for GPS (fall semesters only)	3
PA 393G, Microeconomics (fall semesters only)	3
PA 383G, Policy Making in a Global Age (spring semesters only)	3
PA 393H, International Economics (spring semesters only)	3
PA 682GA and PA 682GB, Policy Research Project (PRP) (two-semester class)	6
PA 195G, Crisis Simulation (spring semesters only, offered every two years)	1

Specialization Course Requirements 15

Specialization courses must be approved by the MGPS Specialization Faculty Coordinator and must be completed for a letter grade. (Note: MGPS Business & Law dual-degree students are required to complete only 12 credits of specialization coursework.)

Specialization Course 1	3
Specialization Course 2	3
Specialization Course 3	3
Specialization Course 4	3
Specialization Course 5	3

Elective Course Requirements 9

(Note: MGPS dual-degree students are not required to complete 9 credit hour elective courses.)

Elective Course 1	3
Elective Course 2	3
Elective Course 3	3

Writing Requirement 3

Students must complete ONE of the following MGPS writing sequences (MGPS dual-degree students are required to complete a PR or a Thesis):

PA 388K, Writing for Global Policy Studies (must be completed during the first year of the program unless student plans on completing a Professional Report)

-OR-

PA 398R, Professional Report/PR (must be completed in the final semester of study)

Policy Research Project (PRP) Requirement

The PRP, the capstone of the MGPS curriculum, is a yearlong course in which a group of students, under the supervision of a faculty member, work together on a policy research project for an external client. The course helps students gain experience in problem structuring, policy formulation, project management, group dynamics, ethics, and report presentation. The MGPS PRP requirement is usually completed in the second year of study (though dual-degree students may complete the MGPS PRP requirement in the third year of study). Students may, in exceptional cases, request to take a PRP during their first year, subject to approval of the Graduate Advisor.

Internship Requirement

MGPS internships must contain international content and include 400 or more hours of appropriate professional, policy-oriented work. Internships must be approved by your Graduate Advisor prior to the first day of the internship.

Foreign Language Proficiency Requirement

Students must show at least advanced intermediate proficiency in a foreign language to graduate. This can be done via proof of 4 semesters of college-level coursework or by passing a placement exam.

Core Course Sequencing and Waivers

Some core courses are sequenced: enrollment in Policy Making in a Global Age requires successful completion of The Nature of the International System. Enrollment in International Economics requires successful completion of Microeconomics.

In some cases, students with significant economics backgrounds (undergraduate economics majors, for instance) may request a waiver from the Microeconomics course. The LBJ School Quantitative Coordinator (Dr. Sheila Olmstead) will evaluate each request individually. If she determines that the student has a firm grasp of the concepts covered in the course, that student may take any other 3-credit graduate-level course in its stead (i.e. the total number of credits required for graduation remains unchanged).

In some cases, students with significant international economics backgrounds may also attempt to test out of the International Economics course. Requests for such a waiver must be directed to the instructor of the course, Dr. Ken Flamm. Students who pass the waiver exam may take any other graduate level course that has direct relevance to international economics (such as an advanced economics class on international environmental economics). This course must be taken for a grade, and cover some aspect of global economics in detail.

MGPS Dual-Degree Programs

The LBJ School's MGPS program offers a total of 10 dual-degree programs with the following UT Austin academic units. Master of Global Policy Studies dual-degree programs are described in detail online at <http://www.lbj.utexas.edu/dual-degrees-master-global-policy-studies>. Note that the first point of contact on dual-degree advising is Dr. Lorinc Redei, MGPS Graduate Advisor.

School of Information (MS)

Law and Business dual-degree programs require completion of a 12 credit hour Specialization and a Professional Report related to the specialization at the LBJ School in the final semester of study.

All other MGPS dual-degree programs require completion of a 15 credit hour Specialization and a Professional Report or Thesis related to the Specialization in the non-LBJ department in the final semester of study.

- The LBJ School encourages concurrent enrollment for dual-degree seekers—we do not require that students take courses in a singular department in any given semester. Some of our partner programs may have such stipulations, however; check with your non-LBJ School program to learn about their enrollment requirements.
- Some academic fellowships may require certain minimum credit hours of enrollment in one program or another. Check with the appropriate Graduate Coordinator and the LBJ Endowment & Fellowship Specialist at LBJFellowships@austin.utexas.edu about any such fellowship requirements before registering for courses in any given semester.
- Entering students considering applying to a dual-degree program need to apply during the first year of study at the LBJ School. UT rules do not honor any dual-degree applications made after the completion of the first semester.

MGPS Specialization Course Requirements

The MGPS degree requires that students select any one of six Specializations or propose a unique Specialization (subject to Graduate Advisor approval). The Specialization is an MGPS degree requirement that is offered and managed within the LBJ School and will not appear on the student's transcript or UT at Austin diploma. Students should inform their Graduate Advisor of their choice of Specialization by the time they plan their first-year Spring schedule.

A Specialization consists of 15 credit hours of coursework that fit together to give the student depth of knowledge in a particular area of global affairs. MGPS Specialization courses must be approved by the appropriate MGPS Specialization Faculty Coordinator or the Graduate Advisor and completed for a letter grade. A preapproved list of specialization courses will be provided prior to the registration period for each semester, and on an ad hoc basis, the Graduate Advisor or Specialization Coordinator may review additional course approval requests. If the Faculty Coordinator approves your course(s), make sure you send an email to the Graduate Advisor and the GAPC so that this is included in your academic record.

Graduate Portfolio Programs

Portfolio Programs are interdisciplinary “certificate programs” offered and managed by the Graduate School of The University of Texas. Portfolio Programs offer students the opportunity to develop expertise in a cross-disciplinary academic area of inquiry while completing requirements for a Master’s degree in a particular discipline. This expertise may help students distinguish themselves when seeking post-graduation employment. The Portfolio Program certification will appear on the student’s transcript after graduation. A complete list of Portfolio Programs, with links to program descriptions, program contacts, and application procedures, is available online at <https://lbj.utexas.edu/graduate-portfolio-programs>.

Elective Course Requirements

The MGPS degree requires 9 credits of elective, graduate-level credits. These courses can be taken at the LBJ School, but MGPS students are encouraged to consider taking graduate-level courses in other UT departments, as well. All courses that are policy-relevant and contain international content may potentially count as elective courses: always check with your Graduate Advisor for approval before registering. (Please note that foreign language courses may not be applied toward completion of an MGPS degree unless they fulfill the following three conditions: (1) are offered at the graduate level, (2) contain significant policy-relevant content, and (3) receive preapproval from your Graduate Advisor.)

Students may request Graduate Advisor registration approval for a non-LBJ School course that is not included on the Pre-approved Elective List by submitting a “Request to Enroll in a Non-LBJ School Course” Form to the Graduate Advisor for consideration.

Some UT departments restrict their courses to departmental majors. Such restrictions are visible from the Registrar’s course schedule online. In cases where a non-LBJ course is restricted to departmental majors, you must contact the department offering the course to inquire about the registration procedure for students outside of the home department. UT Graduate Program Department Contacts are available at <https://gradschool.utexas.edu/academics/programs>.

Information on Options

Law School courses: Registering for Law courses (except for cross-listed courses with a PA number) requires paper registration forms, signed by your Graduate Advisor. In addition, note that Law courses have later grade reporting deadlines than other UT Austin courses. Students, therefore, should not enroll in Law School courses in their final semester, unless they are enrolled through a cross-listed course number (such as a PA course number). Enrolling in a Law course during the final semester will prevent students from graduating on time.

Conference Courses: Students may opt to register for a Conference Course (PA 189C or PA 389), an individualized learning experience that may satisfy an elective requirement or a specialization requirement (if preapproved by the Graduate Advisor). The Conference Course agreement is a contract between a student and an LBJ School faculty member that defines the content of the learning experience and the resulting academic product. MGPS students are allowed to count up to 9 credits of Conference Courses toward the program of study, preferably not in the same semester. Students must submit a Conference Course Registration Form, signed by the supervising faculty member, to their GAPC to receive registration authorization for the PA 189C or PA 389 Conference Course in advance of registering. Conference courses supervised by faculty members outside the LBJ School should be registered with the supervisor's home department, but the internal filing requirement at the LBJ School still applies.

Internship Requirement

To satisfy the MGPS internship requirement for graduation, students must complete a minimum of one internship, consisting of 400 hours in a policy-related placement containing international content. To request internship approval, students must submit a completed MGPS Internship Approval Request Form, along with an offer letter from the placement agency, to your Graduate Advisor for approval and then submit it for approval to the Career Resources Specialist.

Students must receive formal Graduate Advisor approval prior to starting an internship placement that is intended to satisfy the MGPS internship requirement.

Students complete the internship requirement for administrative credit, without having to register for a course or pay tuition. The internship does not earn academic credit hours toward the degree.

In some exceptional circumstances, and with the approval of your Graduate Advisor, students may sign up for a special three-credit summer conference course (PA 396G) with a GPS faculty member to earn three hours of academic credit for an academic course/research project linked to their internship. This course works similarly to any other conference course, with an academic plan of study related to the internship and the course instructor evaluating the work performed. Students register for the PA 396G internship course upon securing an internship, receiving internship course registration approval, and paying tuition. (Students must register for the internship course during the semester in which the internship is completed or the semester immediately following.) Though students may voluntarily complete more than one internship while enrolled at the LBJ School, the PA 396G internship course may not be repeated for credit.

An MGPS student may complete the School-required internship in any semester, although most students complete the internship requirement in the summer between the first and second years of study. Dual-degree students may opt to complete the internship between the second and third years of study. The student earns credit upon completion of the pre-approved internship and submission of the required student and agency internship evaluation.

Internship Waiver Policy

In exceptional circumstances, students with substantial international professional public policy experience may request a waiver of the internship requirement by submitting a completed waiver request form, along with a current resume, to OSAA. Upon approval by the Academic Policies Committee, the internship requirement is considered fulfilled and the waiver cannot be rescinded. Because the internship experience is a valuable learning, resume building, and professional networking opportunity, students with less than executive level professional experience are encouraged to complete an internship, even if a waiver may be obtained.

The Professional Report

The Professional Report (PR) is a single-authored, written policy analysis project completed in the final year of the program. While students may register for the PR course in their second spring semester, to complete the PR successfully and in a timely manner, students are expected to work on the PR in both the fall and spring semesters. Each student selects his or her own topic and asks two faculty members to serve on a supervising committee. Completion of a Professional Report or Thesis is required for MGPS dual-degree students. For all other MGPS students, the PR is one of two options available for completing the MGPS writing requirement. Detailed information about the Professional Report and PR format requirements, policies, and procedures is available online at <https://lbj.utexas.edu/masters-professional-report>.

If you plan on completing a PR instead of the three-credit MGPS Writing for Global Policy Studies course, keep the following points in mind:

- The Graduate School requires that students completing a PR register for the Professional Report course (or Thesis, as appropriate) in the final semester of study (the semester of graduation).
- To receive registration approval for the LBJ School PR course, students must submit a completed “Professional Report Committee Selection and Registration Approval Form” to the GAPC prior to registration.
- The LBJ School requires that students follow a specific Professional Report progress timeline and meet internal LBJ School PR deadlines when working with faculty.
- Grades of incomplete are not given for the PR course. In the event that a student does not successfully complete the PR (or thesis) in the intended final semester of study, the student must re-enroll in the PR class in the subsequent semester, thus delaying graduation.

Note: Completing a PR is a very different type of writing experience than taking the 3-credit Writing for Global Policy Studies course. The PR is a long, in-depth, research-heavy policy report, whereas the Writing course focuses on drafting short, succinct policy documents such as memos and press releases. Therefore, even students who choose to write a PR are encouraged to take the Writing course: in such cases, the Writing course may count as three of the fifteen required specialization course credits.

Section III. Academic Policy and Procedure

Registration at UT Austin encompasses academic advising, registering for classes online, and paying your tuition bill (or confirming your attendance in classes if a third party has paid your fee bill). UT Austin registration access periods are pre-determined by the Office of the Registrar; students may not register outside of the Registrar's pre-determined access periods. Your RIS (Registration Information Sheet) will note your specific registration access periods, as well as any registration bars that have posted to your student record. Registration in preferred courses is not guaranteed. We encourage you to plan ahead and consider alternative course options prior to each registration period.

While your Graduate Advisor and GAPC will do their best to help you with registration problems, registration periods are peak periods for University staff and student services offices. You may need to wait longer for a response to your email, phone call, or paperwork request. Please have patience with the School.

Registration Procedure

An overview of the nine steps required in this process is offered in the Registration Information session during Orientation. This is a summary of those steps:

- 1) Degree Planning and Academic Advising
- 2) Consult Your Registration Information Sheet (RIS) Online
- 3) Clear Your Registration Bars
- 4) Course Schedule Consultation and Review
- 5) Submit Relevant Registration Paperwork Prior to Registration
- 6) Register for Classes
- 7) Use the Online Course Waitlist System
- 8) Fine-Tune Your Schedule During Add/Drop Periods
- 9) Pay Your Tuition Bill and/or Confirm Your Attendance to Class

Course Numbers

Courses at UT are given a three-digit number. The first digit in a course number indicates the number of credit hours the student will receive for completing the course.

For example:

- PA 190G= ONE credit hour course
- PA 387G= THREE credit hour course

Exceptions include graduate-level courses that begin with the number 6; these indicate two-part, sequentially based courses to be taken over the course of two semesters:

- PA 682GA (PRP course, Part I) and PA 682GB (PRP, Part II) = Three credit hours each.

UT Austin graduate-level courses contain a numerical suffix of 80 or greater. For example:

- PA 393H or PA 388K

Only graduate-level courses offered by the University may count toward MGPS degree requirements. Graduate students may enroll in undergraduate classes for enrichment, but such credits may NOT be applied toward completion of LBJ School degrees, nor will they count towards fellowship enrollment requirements. Grades in upper-division undergraduate courses (those with a middle digit of 2 or greater, for example: ARA 325) are included in the graduate GPA, however. Additionally, graduate students enrolled in undergraduate courses are subject to undergraduate deadlines, which differ from deadlines for graduate students.

Course Enrollment Limits and Restrictions

To ensure the quality of the learning experience, each LBJ School course has an official enrollment limit determined by the Associate Dean for Academic Strategies. Additionally, some courses may be restricted to students in particular degree programs based on program needs. Registration is on a first-come, first-served basis until the limit is reached. Once the official limit is reached, additional registration for the course is at the instructor's discretion, based on the course waitlist (and subject to classroom seating capacity set to meet public safety requirements).

Maximum Credit Hour Enrollment Policy

The maximum course load for a graduate student in fall and spring semesters is 15 hours. The maximum course load for a graduate student in summer semesters is 12 hours (At UT, each summer is divided into 2 5-week sessions, but some courses meet the whole summer. So, you would take 6 hours in the first summer session, 6 hours in the second summer session, and/or 12 hours in the whole summer session). Students must obtain Graduate Advisor approval to enroll in more than the maximum number of credit hours in any given semester.

CR/NC (Credit/No Credit) Registration Policy

MGPS core and specialization classes must be taken for a letter grade. However, students may take up to nine elective credit hours on the CR/NC (Credit/No Credit) basis. A maximum of three elective credit hours may be taken on the CR/NC basis per semester. Performance at the grade level of "C" or above is required to earn "CR" for a course taken on a Credit/No Credit basis. Courses taken on the Credit/No Credit basis are not included in the graduate student GPA.

Students may register for an elective class on a CR/NC basis during the registration period. After the registration system closes, students may change a class to the CR/NC status (or vice versa) one time, until the mid-semester deadline published in the academic calendar.

To change the grade status of a course after the registration system closes, obtain a "Grade Change Status Form" from your GAPC. (This form is not available online.) You must obtain your Graduate Advisor's signature, before submitting the form to the Office of Graduate Studies (in Main 101) by the mid-semester CR/NC deadline.

Transfer Credit Policy

UT Graduate School policy stipulates that a maximum of six graduate credit hours may be transferred into a Master's degree program at The University of Texas, provided that the student has Graduate Advisor approval and the credits have not been applied toward completion of another degree.

Students who plan to request to transfer credits for application to the LBJ School degree should initiate the process as soon as possible. The Graduate School website at <https://gradschool.utexas.edu/academics/policies/transfer-credit> contains detailed information regarding credit transfer policies and procedures.

Grades of Incomplete

In cases where a graduate student receives a grade of incomplete for a course (denoted by the symbol “X” on the student record), the student must complete the course requirements by the last class day of the next long (fall or spring) semester enrolled or the incomplete grade will become permanent (denoted by the symbol “I”). A course in which the student receives an incomplete grade will not affect the student’s GPA, but may not be applied toward a degree.

Add/Drops

Students can add and drop courses on their own via the web through the 4th class day (2nd class day during the summer sessions), but will need to submit paper forms with Graduate Advisor approval through the 12th class day (4th class day during the summer sessions). After the 12th class day for a long session or the fourth class day for a summer session, students may not add a course, except for rare and extenuating circumstances as approved by the Graduate Dean of Office of Graduate Studies (OGS). Requests to add a course under these circumstances require a letter of petition from the Graduate Advisor to the Graduate Dean of OGS and a completed Add/Drop form with all required signatures. For more information, please see <https://gradschool.utexas.edu/academics/policies/adding-and-dropping-courses>.

Refunds for Course Drops and Academic Withdrawals

The University will refund partial tuition for classes that a student drops during the first twelve class days in a long semester (first four class days of a summer session), provided that the student maintains enrollment and the drop results in a tuition decrease. Refunds are not given for classes dropped after these dates.

A student who drops a class after receiving any cash payment from the Office of Financial Aid (OFA) may be required to make partial repayment. Please contact OFA directly for information regarding repayment obligations. The Student Accounts Receivable Office issues most refunds the week after the twelfth (or fourth) class day. Refunds are mailed to the student’s local address or deposited into the account the student has designated, if an electronic funds transfer authorization is in effect. Students with questions regarding refunds should contact Student Accounts Receivable directly at (512) 475-7777.

A withdrawal from all courses constitutes cancellation of registration. A student may cancel registration for all courses and receive a full refund by notifying the Office of Graduate Studies in writing prior to the first class day in any given semester. Students who withdraw from the University after the first class day but before the 20th class day in any long semester (6th class day in summer semesters) may receive a partial refund of their tuition. The refund percentage varies according to the student’s effective withdrawal date and is based on the student’s schedule on the effective date of withdrawal, as noted in the University’s General Information Catalog.

In addition to Graduate School approval, withdrawals for international students also require the consent of the International Office and withdrawals for students receiving federal financial aid require the consent of the Office of Financial Aid. Detailed information about the withdraw procedure for graduate students is available online at <https://gradschool.utexas.edu/academics/policies/withdrawals>.

Medical withdrawals and course load reductions are handled by University Health Services: <https://www.healthyhorns.utexas.edu/medicalwithdrawals.html>.

Leave of Absence Policy

Graduate students may apply for a leave of absence for no more than two long semesters. The benefits of filing a formal leave of absence through the Graduate School include guaranteed readmission and a waiver of the readmission application fee upon return to the program. To request a formal leave of absence, a student must submit a Leave of Absence Authorization Form, signed by your Graduate Advisor, to the Office of Graduate Studies in Main 101 prior to the semester for which a leave is requested. Please be sure to notify the GAPC of your plans to take a leave and provide a copy of your leave form. Leaves of absence are not automatically renewed semester to semester, and students returning from leaves of absence must formally request readmission before they can register for courses. Student fellowships are forfeited during semesters students are on leave of absence. Applications to the fellowship committee to defer fellowships for one semester may be submitted to the Endowment and Fellowship Specialist for submission to the fellowship committee. There is no guarantee that an approval will be given to defer. More information about leaves of absence is available online at:

<https://gradschool.utexas.edu/academics/policies/leaves-of-absence>.

Medical withdrawals are not considered leaves-of-absence and are handled by University Health Services: <https://www.healthyhorns.utexas.edu/medicalwithdrawals.html>.

Probationary Status and Academic Dismissal

Students admitted with conditions should meet with the Graduate Advisor for advising as soon as possible to work toward removal of the conditions. Similarly, any Master's student whose cumulative GPA falls below 3.0 in a given semester will be placed on academic probation the following semester. Students on academic probation should see the Graduate Advisor for academic advising and to have the subsequent semester registration bar cleared. Two consecutive semesters on academic probation is cause for dismissal from the University. LBJ School fellowship recipients must maintain a 3.0 or higher GPA to receive fellowship awards. More information is available at this link: <https://gradschool.utexas.edu/academics/policies/warning-status-academic-dismissal>. Not permitted to work at UT if on probationary status on admitted with conditions.

UT Academically Related Travel Policy

The University of Texas at Austin travel policy and LBJ School policy promote safe travel by students, faculty, and staff who conduct research and/or University business away from the Austin campus. Students must receive prior authorization for travel to an international destination that is any way related to academic degree programs, courses, research, internships or professional development activities. More information on international travel policy, required forms, and procedures is available at <http://world.utexas.edu/abroad/itr>. If you have specific questions about travel paperwork and processes, please contact LBJ Travel at lbjtravel@austin.utexas.edu.

Full-Time Enrollment

Graduate students must enroll in at least 9 credit hours per long semester (3 credit hours in the summer) to be considered full-time by The University. Most LBJ School students enroll in 12 hours per long semester to complete the program in two years (or three years, if enrolled in a dual-degree program). Reminder: all students in the MGPS program must be enrolled full-time (except in their final semester, if they require fewer than 9 credits to complete degree requirements).

The Office of Financial Aid requires financial aid recipients to enroll in a minimum of five credit hours per long semester to receive financial aid. International students must enroll in a minimum of 9 credit hours per long semester to meet student visa requirements, but exceptions may be made for graduate students in the last semester before graduation and for doctoral students already in candidacy. The University requires that students who gain employment as Teaching Assistants (TAs) or Graduate Research Assistants (GRAs) be registered for 9 credit hours. UT and LBJ School Fellowships require the student to register for a minimum of 9 credit hours in long semesters (Fall & Spring) and a minimum of 3 hours when required to register for the summer semester.

Texas Residency

Each person who applies for admission to a Texas public college or university is classified as a Texas resident, a nonresident, or a foreign (international) student. How students are classified determines whether they pay non-resident tuition rates or in-state rates. In general, one cannot become a resident solely by going to school in Texas. Detailed information about establishing Texas residency is available at <https://admissions.utexas.edu/residency>. Questions about establishing Texas residency should be directed to the University Residency Office. Please notify the GAPC and the Endowment & Fellowship Specialist (if you are a recipient of a Fellowship).

Academic Employment at UT Austin

Academic employment at UT Austin encompasses the following positions: Teaching Assistant (TA), Assistant Instructor (AI), Graduate Research Assistant (GRA), and Graduate Assistant (GA). To qualify for academic employment, candidates must be degree-seeking graduate students enrolled full-time with a minimum GPA of 3.0. Detailed information about academic employment requirements for graduate students is available at <https://gradschool.utexas.edu/academic-employment>.

As a professional graduate school with no associated undergraduate program, the LBJ School offers a very limited number of TA positions, with priority given to our PhD students. Available TA/GRA positions are advertised on the LBJ Careers website at <https://lbj-utexas-csm.symplicity.com/students>.

You might also want to seek employment in a department that offers undergraduate coursework in a discipline with which you have expertise. A list of UT Austin Graduate Program Department Contacts is available online at <https://gradschool.utexas.edu/academics/programs>. Please notify the GAPC of any student employment assignment you accept on campus by emailing lbjstudentaffairs@austin.utexas.edu.

Benefits by Reason of Academic Employment

Campus employment in a qualifying academic title at or above the 20 hour per week threshold enables non-resident students to pay in-state tuition rate during the semester of employment. Qualifying academic titles include TA, AI, and GRA/RA positions. A complete list of qualifying titles is available at https://hr.utexas.edu/student/student_acad_employment.html.

The resident tuition entitlement benefit is not automatically applied to the student's tuition bill. Non-resident students with a qualifying academic appointment must apply for the resident tuition benefit at <https://utdirect.utexas.edu/acct/fb/waivers/index.WBX> no later than the 12th class day, even if you were awarded a fellowship containing a reduction in tuition to in-state rates. Non-resident LBJ School fellows who received an out-of-state tuition waiver award at the time of admission should notify the LBJ School Endowment and Fellowship Specialist immediately if you are appointed to a qualifying academic employment position.

The Tuition Reduction Benefit entitles Teaching Assistants to a reduction of in-state tuition. Detailed information about Tuition Reduction Benefit is available online at: <https://gradschool.utexas.edu/finances/student-employment/resident-tuition-entitlement>.

Depending on the nature of the research grant, Graduate Research Assistants (GRAs) may also receive in-state tuition coverage, but it is not guaranteed. Please check with the faculty member in charge of the research project for details.

Graduate students assigned to work in a student academic title for at least 20 hours a week for at least 4.5 months (135 calendar days) are eligible for the university's employee group insurance benefits: <http://www.utexas.edu/hr/student/insurance.html>. Fellowship recipients are required to notify the Endowment & Fellowship Specialist with the details of your student employment assignment.

Detailed information about student employment benefits can be found on the UT Austin Human Resources' Student Employment Page online at: http://www.utexas.edu/hr/student/student_empl_benefits.html.

Six-Year Limit on Master's Coursework

Regardless of enrollment status (full-time/part-time) or major (single-degree/dual-degree), the UT Graduate School requires Master's students to complete the degree within six academic years from the initial date of matriculation.

Graduation

Graduate students must be registered during the semester in which they graduate and must apply for graduation by the deadline published in the academic calendar. There are no exceptions to this policy. A student who fails to complete all degree requirements or misses the Professional Report/Thesis submission deadline must register, pay tuition, and apply to graduate the following semester in order to receive the degree. Note: if, for whatever reason, you plan to complete your internship in the summer after your second spring semester, you will need to be an enrolled student in the summer term to graduate in August. Most often, this means completing a conference course linked to your internship. Keep this in mind when registering for your last full-time semester.

Diplomas

UT diplomas are mailed to the permanent address on file 4-6 weeks after degrees are certified, provided that all financial bars have been cleared. To ensure diploma receipt, students should pay off any/all financial bars and, if necessary, review and update the permanent address on file with UT at https://utdirect.utexas.edu/utdirect/bio/address_change.WBX. Questions regarding diplomas should be directed to UT's Diploma Services Office by phone at (512) 475-7619 or by email at diplomas@austin.utexas.edu.

LBJ School Student Fellowships

Current Student Fellowships

LBJ School students are encouraged to review the LBJ School website for fellowships and awards made available to assist in funding professional development and public policy related opportunities. The fellowships, along with their criteria, eligibility and requirements can be found at: <https://lbj.utexas.edu/lbj-school-fellowships>.

The Internship Fellowship Committee reviews all applications, and awards are granted until the funds are exhausted. A student is eligible to receive only one LBJ School internship fellowship during the course of his/her studies at the LBJ School. Students who have been approved to waive the internship or have already completed the LBJ School internship requirement are not eligible for an LBJ School internship fellowship.

Contact the Endowment & Fellowship Specialist in SRH 3.104 or at LBJFellowships@austin.utexas.edu and 512-471-9623 with questions, or submission of all fellowship/award applications.

LBJ Professional Development Requirements & Options

As an LBJ School student, you have the opportunity to work with the School's career resources specialist, writing lab director, and peer writing fellows to develop and refine your writing, career skills, and job search.

To ensure you have a solid foundation upon which to build, the School requires incoming students to complete a writing assessment, resume review, career assessment, and several writing workshops. Most students will complete these requirements by the end of Orientation.

In addition, the Office of Student Affairs offers a range of seminars and workshops to help you fully customize your career exploration and professional development process. All students are invited to participate in the enhanced professional development program, offering additional workshops and coaching and culminating in additional networking events. Students with less than five years of career experience or who plan to change their career direction are especially encouraged to participate in the enhanced program.

Professional Development Requirements

All full-time, first year students will complete the following by the end of the first academic year. Most will take place over the summer or during Orientation:

- Take the LBJ School writing assessment
You will receive individualized feedback and recommendations to develop your writing.
- Attend writing workshops during Orientation
During Orientation, each student should attend four hours of a “writing intensive” workshop dedicated to the School’s expectations regarding writing about research, including citation formats, and an introduction to policy memos and policy briefs. You will also have the opportunity to attend the required collaborative writing workshop, which will be repeated early in the Fall semester.
- Complete the Career Management assessment
You should complete the career management assessment by the beginning of your first year at LBJ (this is found on the Summer Transitions Canvas site). This, along with your resume and writing assessment gives the career management office a good starting point from which to advise you.
- Upload your resume to LBJ Careers
<https://lbj-utexas-csm.symplicity.com/students/> You will receive individualized feedback on your resume as you begin your education at LBJ to ensure that your early resume serves as a good platform upon which you can build.

Enhanced Professional Development Program

All students are encouraged to participate in an enhanced professional development program to build on the basics outlined above. While you may attend any of the workshops offered by OSAA during your tenure at the School, the enhanced program offers additional networking opportunities to students who choose to take advantage of the full program.

You will receive program information during Orientation. Students who enroll in the enhanced program will:

- Attend an introductory workshop in goal-setting and career planning.
- Develop a career search action plan.
- Select a set of professional development workshops to attend, in accordance with your goals and needs.

See the Career Management & Writing Lab pages for tentative workshop lists and keep an eye on Canvas and the School’s events calendar.

Those interested in the enhanced program should enroll in the program through OSAA by emailing lbjwriting@austin.utexas.edu.

LBJ Writing Lab

The LBJ Writing Lab is staffed with 2-3 part-time peer Writing Fellows and one full-time Director. The Lab offers LBJ students individualized assistance at any stage of the writing process and hosts a series of seminars on specialized topics.

Typical Writing Lab offerings include:

- Writing and communications workshops with topics based on student need.
- Guest speakers with professional expertise in policy communications topics, such as data communications, writing for decision makers, grant writing, and legislative advocacy.
- Individual writing consultations for class assignments and career search documents.

Writing Lab Hours

The Writing Lab has appointments available 7:00 a.m. – 6:00 p.m. Monday – Friday. You may meet with a peer Writing Fellow or with the Director, depending on availability.

You can also drop in between 8:00 a.m. – 5:00 p.m. and a consultant will work with you on a space available basis.

What to Expect During Your Visit

What can I expect during a drop-in visit?

You can ask questions about documentation, grammar, word choice conundrums, and writing process best practices. If you need help getting started or revising a tricky paragraph, or simply want to brainstorm writing strategies, come on by! A drop-in is not the time to get substantive feedback on your writing. Please make an appointment for a consultation.

What can I expect during a consultation?

If you send your document at least 24 hours in advance, you can expect a review of structure, content, and use of language. Documents longer than five pages require more time. If available, please send the corresponding assignment prompt or job posting as soon as possible after you make your appointment.

Section VI. Student Organizations

Student organizations are a great way to get involved in the LBJ School and broader UT community.

The Alexander Hamilton Society

The Alexander Hamilton Society is an independent, non-partisan, not-for-profit organization dedicated to promoting constructive debate on basic principles and contemporary issues in foreign, economic and national security policy. Each semester, AHS brings in numerous highly respected policy experts to discuss and debate foreign policy and global issues with UT professors. <https://utexas.collegiatelink.net/organization/alexanderhamiltonsociety>

Alliance for Energy Policy (AEP)

The Alliance for Energy Policy (AEP) seeks a multidisciplinary approach to meeting our energy needs. Energy presents one of the biggest policy challenges facing the United States, and an all-out effort is required to secure the future. Across the UT campus, AEP hosts and sponsors events to help all students plug into the energy revolution. Be it oil and gas exploration, nuclear energy, renewable energy research, energy efficiency, or distributed generation, AEP seeks input from all important stakeholders in the energy field.

The Baines Report

The Baines Report is an approved LBJ student organization composed of and governed by students of the LBJ School of Public Affairs. The Report is dedicated to publishing student op-eds, blogs and media related to current policy. <http://www.bainesreport.org/>

Feminist Policy Alliance (FPA)

The Feminist Policy Alliance is an inclusive community for LBJ School students focusing on policy issues affecting women. FPA brings education and advocacy to the LBJ School, the University and the Austin community. <https://www.facebook.com/FeministPolicyAlliance>

Graduate Public Affairs Council (GPAC)

The Graduate Public Affairs Council (GPAC) is the university-recognized student government body of the LBJ School. GPAC's purpose is to serve the students of the LBJ community. GPAC facilitates student initiatives; fosters discussion and decision-making; and represents and engages in advocacy on behalf of students and their concerns. <http://www.lbjgpac.org/>

Pride Policy Alliance

The Pride Policy Alliance is an inclusive LGBTQA (Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, Queer and Ally) organization that aims to increase the visibility of LGBTQ issues at the LBJ School of Public Affairs, educate and advocate for policies that advance equality at the LBJ School, UT and the greater Austin community. PPA is a part of the UT Austin Gender and Sexuality Center Affiliate Program and organizes social, advocacy and educational events throughout the semester. <https://www.facebook.com/groups/pridepolicyalliance/>

Public Affairs Alliance for Communities of Color (PAACC)

The mission of the Public Affairs Alliance for Communities of Color (PAACC) is to promote awareness and understanding of policy issues affecting communities of color by initiating dialogue, activities and programs within the LBJ School community. PAACC's programming endeavors to reach out to the LBJ student body, the greater UT campus and the community of Austin. <https://www.facebook.com/groups/lbjpaacc/>

Social Policy Network of Students and Alumni (SPN)

Reducing poverty and social and health inequities is a big reason many students enter public affairs, and why they specifically come to the LBJ School. The LBJ Social Policy Network (SPN) encourages all students and alumni whose interests and work intersect with the myriad of interconnected social policy issues to be a part of SPN and their sponsoring research center, the Center for Health and Social Policy (CHASP). Social policy includes issues related to: social mobility, public education, criminal justice, early childhood, child welfare, food insecurity, mental health, healthcare, aging and more. <http://chasp.lbj.utexas.edu/spn/>

Technology and Innovation Policy Society (TIPS)

Austin is a hub for technology, and UT has a history of supporting tech innovation. The Technology and Innovation Policy Society (TIPS) is for students interested in exploring how technology can be applied to public policy issues. TIPS works to connect students with faculty and professionals in tech policy through professional networking, speaker series and events in Austin. Activities include: dinner with tech policy professionals, technical workshops, campus/company visits, publishing of student work, and interactive panels. <https://utexas.campuslabs.com/engage/organization/tips>

Veterans in Public Policy

Veterans in Public Policy assists former service members' transition to civilian life. The group values all types of military service, no matter the occupational specialty or length of commitment. The community bolsters togetherness and belonging by helping each other navigate new professional spheres through counseling, academic assistance and networking. Via monthly get-togethers and activities, the group will develop friendship, familial togetherness and social inclusivity—traits common in the military but uncommon elsewhere. <https://utexas.campuslabs.com/engage/organization/vetsinpolicy/>
