

Barbara Jordan Professional Development Fund (Est. 1985)

Criteria for Eligibility and Award Information

The purpose of the Barbara Jordan Professional Development (PD) Fund is to help graduate students at the LBJ School pursue their goal of moving into public service by enhancing their educational and professional development opportunities. This assistance allows students to take advantage of significant opportunities that would otherwise be unavailable, and manifests Professor Jordan's commitment to seeing that no student is denied an opportunity because they do not have the financial resources to pursue it.

Criteria

To be considered for funding, requests must be for activities such as travel to a conference or interview, travel to present original research, headshots, business cards, statistical software for research, and professional memberships.

Eligibility

- Applicant must be an LBJ School of Public Affairs degree-seeking student registered in a minimum of nine (9) credit hours in long semesters or a minimum of three (3) credit hours in the summer that credit toward their LBJ School degree.
- Dual degree students are eligible to receive funds during two (2) academic years so long as they are: (a) enrolled full time during the semester of the award, (b) are enrolled in at least nine (9) credit hours that credit toward their LBJ degree during the year (September 1 – August 31) in which they are requesting professional development funds and (c) meet all other requirements for the award. In the event a dual degree student does not fulfill the nine (9) LBJ credit hours requirement for the academic year, the award monies must be returned to the university or a non-financial administrative bar may be placed on their student record.
- Applicant must maintain at least a 3.0 grade point average and cannot be on academic probation.

Awards

The Barbara Jordan PD Fund amount varies from academic year to year (September 1 – August 31). A committee meets to review applications on a regular and on-going basis each year until the budgeted funds are exhausted.

- Each academic year, recipients may receive up to $250.00 towards qualifying professional development expenses until the available funds are exhausted.

How to Apply

Complete the Current Student Endowed Fellowship Application including the required narrative and budget components. Attach supporting documentation such as a copy of the airfare from a travel website, a printout of the hotel rate and company/agency name, contact information for the interviewer, and all receipts or basis for estimates of expenses. Submit the completed application to lbjfellows@atx.utexas.edu.

Incomplete applications will be returned for completion and will not be considered until resubmitted. Students should expect notification regarding the committee's decision of their request of funds no earlier than two weeks after the submission of the completed application.

Funding is not guaranteed and the payment process may take several weeks, so students should keep that in mind when applying.

Whenever possible, applications for PD Funds should be completed, submitted, and approved prior to the date you have listed as the start of the professional development event or expense. Applications submitted after the student has incurred the expense(s) will be considered, but there is no guarantee that the Committee will approve the reimbursement.

In special circumstances, you may seek pre-approval from the Committee to provide proof of payment at an agreed upon time. Fellowships awarded without receipts that are not provided within two weeks of the expense being incurred may result in a non-financial administrative bar and/or a request for the fellowship monies to be returned.

Submit all final (actual) expense receipts for reconciliation to lbjfellows@utexas.edu.

Rules and Regulations for Expenses

The rules and regulations covering travel reimbursement come from several sources. The University of Texas is governed by the State of Texas Travel Regulations Act, the General Appropriations Act, Rules and Regulations of the University of Texas System Board of Regents, and official interpretations of the Travel Act as made by the State Comptroller of Public Accounts.

For in-state and out-of-state meals and lodging, please refer to the GSA's Federal Domestic Maximum Per Diem Rates for your destination (<https://www.gsa.gov/travel/plan-book/per-diem-rates>). This is the maximum daily reimbursement for meals and lodging. You can elect to pay more without expectation of reimbursement.

Mileage is reimbursable at the current State of Texas rate (<https://fmx.cpa.texas.gov/fmx/travel/texttravel/rates/current.php>) when using your own personal vehicle for trips that originate in Austin and require travel to another city. For official point-to-point mileage you may use odometer readings or mileage computed by an online mapping tool. Provide printout of mileage calculation from Google Maps, Mapquest, etc.

Note: If you are traveling outside of the United States, you must adhere to the University of Texas policies for international travel.
